

2026 Rodney Powell Awards – Meet the Host

Fern Lulham is a blind audio describer, accessibility consultant and broadcaster, specialising in inclusive media and storytelling.

With a background in broadcasting, her work focuses on making film, television, and digital content accessible, engaging and meaningful for diverse audiences. As a qualified psychotherapist, she is particularly interested in the psychosocial and emotional aspects of accessibility and how it can influence shame, loneliness and self-esteem.

Alongside consulting, Fern speaks on inclusion and belonging, helping organisations move towards truly inclusive audience experiences, which make everyone feel more valued, understood and connected.
